Aquarium Events Past, Present & Future

Women Just Want To Have Fun -- The Bourne-based Red Hat Club visited the Woods Hole Science Aquarium and toured the NOAA Research Vessel Delaware II April 7. The Red Hat Society (<http://www.redhatsociety.com/>) is a national movement of women who believe in having fun after fifty. Red Hat members must be at least fifty years old, wear red hats on club outings, and abide by the Red Hat Society's one rule, which states that "There are no rules." The 12 women pictured here include eleven Red Hatters and the NEFSC's own Michele Traver, who is a bit too young for Red Hat membership. Michele organized the Red Hatter's visit with her grandmother, Doris Thompson (to Michele's immediate left, wearing a red hat).
